Description

We are looking for clients worldwide that would require BIM Consulting to successfully manage their architecture, construction, facility management and real estate projects. Walter doo employs more than 90 highly-skilled individuals today. Our team is comprised of innovative, energetic and resourceful developers, architects, structural, mechanical and electrical engineers, graphical designers, etc. Majority of our work is done in the architectural/construction/facility management/real estate industry in Scandinavia. Our business has grown rapidly in the past years and we have in plan an even bigger growth and expansion into new markets in the near future. The core of our business is BIM Consulting (Building Information Modeling). We create smart BIM models rich with information for Architects, Facility Managers, Owners, Investors for the purpose of new design and development, reconstruction works, facility management, real estate management. On top of this, we develop our own products for real estate management, as well as engineering tools (mechanical, electrical, etc.) and facility management software, all supported by BIM.
